The Royal House of Troy

   King Priam was the last ancient King of Troy before the Trojan War. It is said that King Priam had as many as 50 children, but the most commonly known are by his first wife Princess Arisbe of Percote, Aesacus the Seerer and by his second wife Princess Hecuba of Phrygia, Hector, Paris, Cassandra, Helenus, Deiphobus. Helenus was the only son of King Priam to survive the Trojan War, and Hecuba, along with all of King Priam's daughters were enslaved by the Greek Kings.
   Her Royal Highness de jure Queen Krystal is descendant of Helenus.
